Where the binding comes from

Both pipelines encrypt one value with a standard cipher. Only one of them knows whose value it is.

TYPICAL BASELINE · ENCRYPTION AT REST WITH A SHARED KEY

CPDPM · CONTEXT-BOUND ENCRYPTION

Same primitives, same key sizes, one extra derivation per operation. The difference is that the ciphertext can only be read where it was written.